

For the Planning Commission Website

The Greensboro Planning Commission embarking on creating a new Town Plan that will guide and support change in our community over the next eight years. Last year, the Planning Commission conducted a survey that asked the community for input to this process. We used that input to craft a vision for Greensboro. The vision, which will be the basis for preparing the Town Plan, is shown below.

Greensboro residents aspire to see a future for the community where:

- The Town's rural character is viewed as a significant benefit that shall be protected.
- As a community, there is a strong sense that conservation of our natural resources shall be a high priority.
- Greensboro continues to attract and enjoy vibrant and unique small businesses that sustain tourism, support our economy, and are gathering places for local residents.
- Greensboro is attractive for both retired families as well as new families raising young children.
- Greensboro, a small New England town, is the home of many cultural opportunities typical of larger towns.
- The community offers a multitude of recreational activities for young and old.
- The community strongly supports lifelong education, with the important benefits it provides to the community.

First, do you have any comments on the vision? Is it consistent with your expectations for the future of Greensboro?

Second, the Town Plan must include specific actions that will move the community towards this vision. What actions would you like to see that will support the vision? Your thoughts are appreciated!

Finally, we need more members for the Greensboro Planning Commission. If you would like to play a role in defining the future of our community, please let us know!

Please email your responses to dpredpall@greensborovt.org

Thank you for helping to make Greensboro better!

Dan Predpall, Chair, Greensboro Planning Commission