The Planning Commission is a 7 member board. They adopt rules of procedure and rules of ethics with respect to conflicts of interest to guide its official conduct, as required under 24 V.S.A. Ch. 117 and Vermont's Open Meeting Law. They have the following duties in association with these regulations: Prepare proposed amendments to the zoning Bylaws and Town Plan, and consider proposed amendments submitted by others, including amendments submitted by petition. They prepare and approve written reports on any proposed amendment to the zoning bylaw. They hold warned public hearings on proposed amendments to zoning bylaws, prior to submission of a proposed amendment and written report to Selectboard.
